This musical score is for the song "Ah! Ah! Ah!" by Franz Schubert. It is written for voice and piano. The key signature is three sharps (F#, C#, G#), and the time signature is 3/4. The score consists of five staves: four vocal staves (Soprano, Alto, Tenor, Bass) and one piano accompaniment staff at the bottom. The vocal parts feature a simple melody with long, horizontal lines indicating sustained notes or breaths. The piano accompaniment provides a rhythmic and harmonic foundation, with the right hand playing a more active melody and the left hand providing a steady bass line. The score is divided into two main sections by a double bar line. The first section is marked "cresc." and the second section is marked "sempre cresc.". The vocal parts enter in sequence, with each voice part having its own "Ah!" line. The piano accompaniment begins with a short introduction and then joins the vocalists. The score ends with a final "Ah!" in all parts.

The musical score for 'The Rose Tree' is presented in two systems. The first system consists of four staves: three treble clefs and one bass clef, all in the key of D major (indicated by two sharps). The melody is written in the first treble staff, with the second and third treble staves providing harmonic support. The bass staff provides a simple accompaniment. The second system features a grand staff (treble and bass clefs) for piano accompaniment. The right hand plays a complex, arpeggiated figure, while the left hand plays a simpler accompaniment. The score concludes with a double bar line and a small asterisk.
