Yes, oh! yes again we'll meet, Love,
 And repose our hearts at last;
 Oh! sure 'twill then be sweet, Love,
 Calm to think on sorrows past.
 Farewell Bessy!
 We may meet again.

Yet I feel my heart is breaking,
 When I think I stray from thee,
 Round the world that quiet seeking,
 Which I fear is not for me!
 Farewell Bessy!
 We may meet again.

Calm to peace thy Lover's bosom —
 Can it, dearest, must it be,
 Thou within an hour shalt lose him,
 He for ever loses thee!
 Farewell Bessy!
 Yet oh! not for ever. Hope
