A page from a medieval manuscript featuring three staves of musical notation. The notation is written in brown ink on light-colored paper. The music is organized into measures by vertical bar lines. The notes are represented by diamond shapes with stems, and some have small crosses or dots indicating pitch or rhythm. The lyrics are written in a Gothic script below each staff.

The first staff begins with a measure containing four notes, followed by the text "zū sal ue". The second staff begins with a measure containing four notes, followed by the text "sal ue sal". The third staff begins with a measure containing four notes, followed by the text "zum sal ue sal". The fourth staff begins with a measure containing four notes, followed by the text "ue sal ue".

The fifth staff begins with a measure containing four notes, followed by the text "zū sal ue sal". The sixth staff begins with a measure containing four notes, followed by the text "ue sal ue".
